BALINESE ROYAL KINGDOM

An elegant presentation of dishes with local taste combined with Indonesian style and served on giant bamboo tray accompanied by Balinese Gong (traditional Balinese music)

The History

This dish was used to celebrate the first day of harvesting when the king and queen gather with their subjects. Compiling food from all the regions of Bali: Aromatic smoked dishes from the grill and braziers, fresh and colorful. With Gong music beautifully playing in the background, the people wholeheartedly served their monarch. A most splendid and happy occasion for all in the kingdom. Our Balinese Royal Kingdom dish will delight you. Bringing back memories of harvesting in bygone days with you as king and queen.

THE ROYAL BARUNA

The royal baruna is a seafood dishes with local Balinese flavors combined with a Jimbaran style seafood grill, and served accompanied by Balinese gong (traditional Balinese music)

The History

In ancient times, the ancestors of Indonesia were known as "Sea wanderers" or fishermen who sailed the seas, moving from one island to another to look for better life. They had so much respect and appreciation for the natural wealth they caught from the sea and they highly worshipped the God of the Ocean called "Baruna", so once they had a great catch and also a successful harvest of their crops they would celebrate and dedicate a lavish feast in his honor. For the celebration they displayed a splendid array of foods on the tables, consisting of catches from the sea and also harvested fresh crops from the coastal areas during the ceremony, they chanted their prayers and also danced of joy in gratitude to Baruna, the God of the Ocean.
